FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Integrated Care Management Announces Promotion of Heidi Slewett to VP, Sales & Services

Responsible for Ensuring Clients Receive Full Benefit of Company Vision

ATLANTA— September 1, 2011— Integrated Care Management (ICM), a leading disability management firm, announces the promotion of Heidi Slewett to VP, Sales & Services.

According to ICM Chief Executive Officer Kevin Hill, Slewett has been a driving force behind the company's significant growth since she joined the firm in 2008. "Heidi made an immediate contribution when we brought her on board. She set a company sales record for a first year regional sales manager, was named our Regional Sales Manager of the year in 2010 and ascended to the role of national sales manager that same year. Heidi has been invaluable to the leadership team as we continue our focus on redefining case management."

In her role as national sales manager, Slewett helped set new company revenue records by helping expand ICM's footprint and played a significant role onboarding new regional sales managers. In addition to training, leading and mentoring current and new regional sales managers, Slewett will work with clients to understand their needs and ensure that ICM continues to deliver its services to a consistently high level.

ICM works with clients to determine the most appropriate and cost-effective way to treat injured or ill employees, keep them engaged with the company while they are out and return them to the job faster. It's also ICM's commitment to fast response that reduces case close dates and safely gets injured workers back on the job more quickly.

Added Hill, "ICM has a very clear vision about meeting the needs of our clients. We believe that for too long clients have had to lower their expectations based on the delivery of services by our competitors. Over the past several years we have focused on raising the standards through our client-driven processes and analytics. As we have continued to grow it became evident that we needed to formally put in place someone who would champion that vision and ensure that we maintain the high quality of service from initial client contact through the delivery of our services. I can think of no one more qualified than Heidi to take on that critical role."
