Integrated Care Management Announces 12th Consecutive Quarter of Revenue Growth

Revenue Up 11.5% over Q1, 2010 and 56% over Q2, 2009

ATLANTA— July 20, 2010— Integrated Care Management (ICM), a leading disability management firm, announces its 12th consecutive quarter of revenue growth.

ICM EVP Kevin Hill believes that the consecutive quarters of growth are driven by ICM's focus on closing cases as safely and efficiently as possible. "The entire ICM team has embraced our commitment to dedicating the appropriate level of care that each case requires versus the industry's more common practice of focusing on billable hours. Our case managers are measured by how successfully they achieve this goal, and in turn, ICM is evaluated using those same standards by our clients."

ICM teams with clients to determine the most appropriate and cost-effective way to treat injured or ill employees, keep them engaged with the company while they are out and return them to the job faster.

Results from early intervention following an injury also has contributed to the company's success because it enables ICM to get the affected worker on the right treatment path from the start. This ultimately helps them recover faster, minimizes loss of productivity and saves their employer money.

Added Hill, "Our data proves that the faster an injured worker's case is handled, the faster that employee recovers—a point we emphasize with clients. At the same time, we understand that not all cases can be addressed quickly. Even if we don't receive a file soon after an injury our focus does not change. We are committed to achieving the best outcome—getting the file to a positive close as quickly as possible."
